Owing to the current social protest landscape this Situation Report is organized into three main sections, each with specific information relevant to Ottawa, Toronto, and Ontario.

PREFACE: The format of this Situation Report delineates between police information and information gathered through open sources. Media and social media information has been incorporated in this report towards developing all-source intelligence in support of providing greater context, and which may identify indicators, ideologies, and attitudes that could motivate subjects of interest and influence their behaviours.

THEFT OF WEAPONS (Peterborough)

Police reporting indicates that on 2022-02-13 at 0300 hours, a tractor-trailer carrying a load of firearms was stolen from 437 Parkhill Road East in Peterborough. The weapons are described as 3,409 .22 calibre long guns and 6,468 magazines. No ammunition was in the load.

The tractor is described as a white 2019 Freightliner New Cascadia with "[REDACTED] Peterborough, Ontario" in red lettering and the number "97" on the side of the hood, bearing Ontario license plate [REDACTED]. The trailer is white with a silver horizontal line along its length, bearing license plate [REDACTED]. It was last observed heading eastbound on Parkhill Road.

Note: This is for officer safety and situational awareness. We have no information at this time to suggest that this theft is related to the ongoing protests.

OTTAWA: AGREEMENT

Media reporting indicates that Mayor Watson has reached an agreement with [REDACTED] for vehicles to leave residential streets. Mayor WATSON has reportedly offered to meet with protestors to discuss their concerns provided that: all trucks are removed from residential areas south of Wellington Street and from all other residential areas including the market and the site at Coventry; protestors agree to not backfill residential areas that are currently occupied by protestors or their vehicles; protestors agree to not relocate vehicles or demonstrators to other residential neighbourhoods in Ottawa. The mayor has requested that the protest perimeter be limited to Wellington Street between Elgin Street and the Sir John A. MacDonald Parkway. He expects to see indicators of these conditions being met by noon on 2022-02-14. [REDACTED] has reportedly claimed that organizers are working to gain buy-in from drivers.

OTTAWA: POLICE INFORMATION & OBSERVATIONS

Items in this section are presented in order of seriousness of the potential threat:

The OPP continues to be engaged in this initiative with resources on the ground providing real-time updates and observations to the National Capital Region Command Centre – Combined Intelligence Group as events unfold.

- The Ottawa Police Service (OPS) has reported that a Canadian Tire store located near the Coventry site has reported selling an unusual quantity of bear spray over the past two days. The OPS is investigating.

OTTAWA: OPEN SOURCE INFORMATION (Media and Social Media)

Items in this section are presented in order of seriousness of the potential threat:

- Open source research has identified the following:
  - The Ottawa Police Service identified an online video in which a driver at the blockade had made inflammatory statements referencing violence, such as using a truck as a weapon. The video also showed him displaying a protective vest, which he claimed would stop an armour-piercing round. He claimed that he brought it with him to protect himself, and that he had worn it at the blockade. The male was identified as [REDACTED] of Windsor.

- The speaker schedule for today includes [REDACTED] (1500 hours); [REDACTED] (1515 hours); and Pastor [REDACTED] (2100 hours).
- Messaging suggesting that influencers are encouraging protestors and supporters to undertake “missions”. Mission #01 is to steal one of the red toques worn by members of Durham Regional Police in Ottawa. Mission #02 is to find “Paul, REEE at him, and video him losing his [...] mind”. The mission includes an image of a male who was previously recorded yelling and screaming at truck drivers at the Ottawa blockade (reported in Project HENDON SITREP dated 2022-02-02).
- A video featuring [REDACTED] complaining about being stuck in traffic because the police had shut down bridges leading into Ottawa from Quebec. His reasons for being in Quebec are not known.
- The convoy daily report indicates that the police and Premier FORD threatened protestors in Windsor, which resulted in more protestors attending. The report further claims that government officials are frustrated, lack a strategy, and so are resorting to unduly aggressive tactics that are backfiring.
- A video of [REDACTED]'s speech on 2022-02-12 in which he described his attempt to recruit plainclothes police officers to join the protestors. The crowd responded enthusiastically to his speech.

TORONTO: POLICE INFORMATION & OBSERVATIONS

- The Toronto Police Service (TPS) has reported a bus leaving for Ottawa today.

TORONTO: OPEN SOURCE INFORMATION (Media and Social Media)

- TPS continues to monitor for relevant open source information.

AMBASSADOR BRIDGE:

- Media reporting indicate that police enforcement actions in Windsor resulted in a number of arrests and vehicles towed. The route to the bridge has been cleared.
- OPP reporting this morning indicated that one tractor truck and approximately eight personal vehicles remained on site at Huron Church and Tecumseh.
- On 2022-02-12, an anonymous caller advised police of the possible presence of an explosive device in the area of Huron Church and College. A police and police K9 sweep of the area yielded negative results.
- OPP reporting indicates that protestors are defiant and either believe that the police will not arrest them or are willing to get arrested.
- A social media post depicted the image of a white pickup truck with a US Confederate flag across the rear windshield. The caption notes that the vehicle was in Windsor and implies that it formed part of the protest.
- Open source research identified a social media message in the name of [REDACTED] asking for people to come to Windsor to help. The post claims that the police were becoming aggressive and that the people there were tired and overwhelmed. The post also notes that there was not "as much support or attention". We infer that this is a reference to the Windsor protest.

[REDACTED] is a member of CANADIAN FRONTLINE NURSES and was terminated from her employment in the London Health Sciences neo-natal unit in January 2021 after being charged with failing to comply with the province's public health restrictions.

BLUE WATER BRIDGE:

- OPP reporting indicates that traffic is moving normally.

PEACE BRIDGE:

- OPP reporting indicates that a small group of vehicles and protestors are at the Peace Bridge. No additional protestors were anticipated.

INTERNATIONAL BRIDGE (CORNWALL):

- Vehicle convoy departed and did not remain overnight as originally planned.

LANSDOWNE BRIDGE:

- The vehicle convoy intending to block the bridge on 2022-02-12 diverted to Cornwall.

NORTHWEST REGION:

- OPP reporting has identified a potential blockade at the Nipigon River Bridge scheduled for 2022-02-26.
- OPP reporting indicates that a group of people have travelled to possibly block the border at Pigeon River, and appear to be camping on site. Their intention is unclear.
- Open source research has identified social media messaging on the CANADA UNITY Facebook page claiming that farmers from around Thunder Bay intend to block bridges and border crossings with 1000 tractors. The message also claims that they are going to a border crossing with 5000 vehicles, including commercial motor vehicles. The border point is not named: it is possible that Pigeon River is the alleged destination.

ONTARIO: POLICE INFORMATION & OBSERVATIONS

- On 2022-02-12, the OPP received a call from a male who indicated that he was a lead organizer for the protest at the Blue Water Bridge and that they would shut the bridge down if the OPP did not listen to his demands. The male claimed to have started the protest in Alberta. The male's claims were deemed not credible.

ONTARIO: OPEN SOURCE INFORMATION (Media and Social Media)

- Ongoing protests at various locations.

OTHER

- In an online video, [REDACTED] calls for people to support the protest at Windsor, and states that something big was planned for this morning on the east coast and west coast.
- Media reporting indicates that the TD Bank plans to hand over the $1M in funds previously released by GoFundMe for the blockade to the Ontario courts, along with approximately $400,000 in direct donations, for distribution or return to donors.
- Open source research has identified a video in which [REDACTED] indicates that organizers are launching their own cryptocurrency (FREEDOM CONVOY TOKEN). He indicates that a Freedom Convoy Token worth $20.00 will be invested in the foundation for each driver participating in the blockade. He describes the currency as a decentralized currency for which the drivers need to join a Telegram group. The foundation will allegedly provide each truck driver with residual income.
- The Freedom Convoy fundraiser on GiveSendGo has raised slightly less than $9.3 M USD. The Bitcoin wallet for the blockade contains almost $1.2M CAD. The ADOPT A TRUCKER account on GiveSendGo has raised $583,340 USD.
- Media reporting indicates that a small group of cyclists and pedestrians prevented a convoy from travelling into downtown Edmonton on 2022-02-12 by blocking an intersection through which the convoy needed to pass. Other convoys entered the city from different routes.

ASSESSMENT

The situation in Ottawa remains volatile. Blockade organizers and participants appear to be largely dismissive of Canadian democratic institutions intended to ensure public order and safety. The clearing of the blockade at the Ambassador Bridge is unlikely to deter protestors in Ottawa. The protestors in Ottawa are well organized, well positioned, disciplined with regard to security, and well informed, particularly regarding police planning.

Police reporting for several days has indicated that the attitude toward police at the Ottawa blockade has become more adversarial and confrontational. Blockade organizers view the stand-off with the government as a zero-sum game: they are convinced that if the government has not reached out to them to negotiate, it is because a massive police deployment against them is imminent. This perception is feeding a siege mentality in which they are prepared to defend themselves. The reported sale of bear spray may be indicative of this intent if it can be confirmed that a blockade organizer or participant is a purchaser. It is also possible that bear spray could be used for offensive purposes.

As the protests continue, the likelihood for citizens to decide to take matters into their own hands appears to be increasing. The available reporting indicates a growing number of counter-protests, including incidents where convoys are physically blocked by individuals or small groups. Such counter-protests are likely to continue. These counter-protests could increase the threat of conflict at protest sites, and raise the possibility of injury to individuals who place themselves in the way of vehicles.

As the protests continue, the likelihood of false complaints to police, as an attempt to disperse police resources, to disrupt the protests, or merely to gain attention, is also likely increasing.

Many of the protestors are ideologically driven and espouse anti-government or anti-authority viewpoints. They appear to be largely unconcerned about potential legal consequences, as they view the state's institutions as illegitimate and their own "fight for freedom" as all important.

Some view themselves as being at war with the Canadian government and everything that it represents. Others have reframed the protests as a class war, and portrayed themselves as representatives of the working class in a fight against "the elites". Some of the tactics used in Ottawa indicate a preference for irregular warfare, in which the authorities are frustrated, worn down or provoked through petty or nuisance act or tactics, as exemplified by the online calls for "missions", which could be described as games or "dares". The use of these tactics could reflect the belief that protestors are at war, and could also be an indicator of logistical support in the form of expertise from organizers or influencers with police or military backgrounds.

It is highly likely that protests will continue for the foreseeable future across the province and that tactics will be adapted in response to enforcement actions. Protests may be organized in a given area while police resources are diverted to another. It is also possible that some individuals or entities may escalate to acts of mischief against critical infrastructure or other strategic targets in the long term.

The situation in Ontario remains volatile. The potential for conflict or an act of violence is likely increasing as the Ottawa blockade continues. The potential for conflict has not decreased with the enforcement action in Windsor. The possibility of an act of mischief against strategic targets should not be discounted.
